Relationship: Sr. Web Designer, with The Star Group (formerly Top-Link Technologies). I reported to Aaron at Top-Link Technologies, The Star Group, and InquireTech. "Aaron is focused and on point. He helped me to set achievable IT goals and provided a detailed and specific plan to execute those goals. Our results exceeded expectations and allowed us to reinvest profits which further propelled our timeline for implementing our IT innovations." January 9, 2008.

Relationship: I hired Aaron as an IT Consultant in 1996, to design, architect, and implement a secure WAN with VPN, and Point-to-Point connectivity. I have worked with Aaron on several projects. "Aaron was a very knowledgeable and results-oriented technology consultant for National Future Mortgage. He was able to understand not only the technical specs for B-to-B projects/implementations, but also the business side of the application, i.e. its role in the company's operations. He was very thorough and productive, finishing project at or before the projected completion date." January 9, 2008.

Relationship: My relationship with Aaron dates back to 1996, when I hired Aaron as CTO for DESIGNfx Interactive to build out and manage our technical infrastructure. Aaron's role was crucial to the sale of DESIGNfx to IBS Interactive in 2008. Aaron and I joined forces again in early 2009, when I hired him as a high-level technical/business consultant to various projects in the Avericom pipeline. "Aaron is and always has been an incredible technology executive". "His unique ability to understand the depths of online and network technologies and communicate them in the C-level environment is more impressive than anyone I have ever seen." September 12, 2009
